

Susan L. Fox

Susan Fox serves as Vice President, Government Relations of The Walt Disney Company. Ms. Fox represents all of Disney's operating divisions before the federal government, with a particular focus on the policy issues that affect Disney's media interests, including the Disney Interactive Media Group, Disney Channel, the Disney ABC Cable Networks, the ABC Owned Television Stations, the ABC Television Network and ESPN. Ms. Fox represents Disney on the boards of the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB), the Family Online Safety Institute (FOSI), and the Broadband Internet Technical Advisory Group (BITAG).

Prior to her present position, Ms. Fox served as Senior Legal Advisor to former FCC Chairman William Kennard and as Deputy Chief, Mass Media Bureau at the Federal Communications Commission. In these capacities, she was responsible for the media-related public policy issues before the FCC. Prior to the FCC, Ms. Fox was an associate with the law firm of Hogan & Hartson and served as law clerk to the Honorable H. Robert Mayer, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Ms. Fox is a graduate of Lafayette College, where she received, with magna cum laude distinction, a Bachelor of Arts degree in engineering. She earned her law degree from the University of Virginia School of Law. She lives with her husband, Jeffrey Markowitz, in Arlington, Virginia, with their four children.
